

The Indian Advocate.

Devoted to the Interests of Indian Missions.

VOL. VIII.

JANUARY, 1896.

No. 1.

One story never growing old,
One story all delight to hear,
For ages past, from year to year,
Fond mothers to their children told:

The story of that Holy Night
When Christ within a manger lay,
When darkness fled before the light,
And brightly dawned Redemption's day:

When angels from the starry sky
Sang "Glory be to God on high,
And peace on earth to all mankind
With heart and will to truth inclined."